October 2012

It's open enrollment time. Did you know that More than half of U.S. employees default to their current benefit coverage for the coming year, instead of actively reassessing their plan option?

Is Your Plan Still Right for You?

Examine your choices at open enrollment. A 2012 survey by HR consultancy Aon Hewitt showed that what you may not realize is that the old selection may not be the best option.

Health care costs are expected to rise 6.3 percent in 2013 to $11,188 per employee, compared to $10,522 in 2012.

More Costs...

You will likely see your portion of the total cost rise in the form of increased premiums and out-of-pocket costs. The amount employees will pay for their health care benefits in 2013 is expected to be close to $5,000-$2,385 in premiums and another $2,449 in out-of-pocket costs.
